

MODULE 11 WORKSHEET

Double Down on Evidence

Allocate more effort to the acquisition lane showing the strongest real signals while preserving enough testing to avoid tunnel vision.

Completion target: identify the strongest acquisition lane, preserve the working elements, strengthen proof for promising prospects, and run a focused next acquisition block.

1. Compare the three lanes

Lane	Activity	Replies	Positive signals	Calls/interviews	Quality of opportunities 1-5
Targeted jobs
Direct clients
Warm network

Strongest lane:

Evidence:

2. Preserve what is already working

- ☐ Keep the working niche unless evidence says otherwise.
- ☐ Keep the strongest proof asset.
- ☐ Keep the message angle producing useful replies.
- ☐ Keep the channel producing quality conversations.
- ☐ Do not redesign everything because one element improved.

3. Focused effort allocation

Use evidence, not attachment. A default can be 60% strongest lane, 30% second-best, 10% exploration - but change the split when the evidence clearly supports another allocation.

Lane	% of acquisition effort	Why	Exact target this block

4. Promising prospect shortlist

#	Company / role	Signal received	Best proof to customize	Next action

8

5. Customized proof builder

Choose up to three promising opportunities. Improve only the evidence most likely to reduce their hiring risk.

Opportunity	What they appear to need	Proof I will tailor	Customization

Do not perform a full unpaid campaign for every prospect. A useful sample should demonstrate competence without giving away days of production work.

6. Focused acquisition block

Activity	Target	Actual
New opportunities added
Primary-lane actions
Secondary-lane actions
Follow-ups completed	100% due
Customized proof pieces sent
Live replies handled	100%

What changed after focusing effort?

MODULE 11 QUALITY GATE

Double Down - PASS / REVISE

- ☐ I compared lanes using real evidence.
- ☐ I selected a primary lane for a reason I can explain.
- ☐ I preserved working elements instead of restarting.
- ☐ I allocated explicit effort targets.
- ☐ I tailored proof only for promising opportunities.
- ☐ I completed the focused acquisition block.
- ☐ All live replies and due follow-ups were handled.
